Saturday, November 5th Schedule

- 1 pm – 4:30 pm Interactive Workshop with Dawn Martin
- 6 pm – 7:30 pm Dinner and Volunteer of the Year Award Presentation
- 8 pm Newbie Festival with talkback to follow

Sunday, November 6th Schedule

Dawn Martin has had an eclectic career, but she started in professional theatre and continues to have a love for all things dramatic. She has been consulting with non-profit organizations for close to 40 years, supporting their efforts to strengthen their capacity and their results.

This interactive session will provide TSI's members and stakeholders with the opportunity to talk about what they can do to strengthen their organizations and programs in the community and how TSI can help and support them through its programs and services. Participants will have an opportunity to learn from the experience of others and to offer and test their ideas and suggestions.

Using a strategic planning framework, the workshop will focus on some key questions:

- Future State:
 - Why do we do theatre in the community?
 - What does success look like for us?
- Current State:
 - How do we grow our audiences after 2 ½ years of COVID?
 - How do we generate interest in participating in theatre productions?
- Strategic Directions:
 - What are our priorities over the next two to three years?
 - What do we need to achieve those priorities?

Come and join in the discussion – think about the future and have your voice heard!
